"O Pinkerton, We Hail Thee"

IN MEMORIAM

The Faculty and students of Pinkerton Academy were grieved by the sudden death of Malcolm C. MacKenzie on March 31, 1949. In his 17 years as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Academy, he was always interested in everything and everyone connected with the school. He was Secretary of the Board for 14 years, but his interests extended far beyond this official capacity. No problem or accomplishment was too trivial to merit his attention. His loss will be deeply felt by all of us.

DEDICATION

We deeply appreciate the many things you have done for us—your understanding, guidance, and friendliness. In turn, we, the Class of 1949, wish to dedicate this Commencement issue of the Pinkerton Critic to you,

HARRY CLINTON MCKENNEY

IVAN A. HACKLER

Principal

ALFRED F. CONNER
Senior Class Adviser

Class Welcome

Parents and Guests:

On this 9th day of June, we welcome you to our Class Day Exercises at Pinkerton. We hope you will enjoy today's program as it marks the end of our four happy and successful years at the Academy.

We wish to thank you for all that you have to make this Class Day a memorable occasion.

JAMES HODGDON

Class History

Is everyone comfortable? All right, Glenn, turn off the light. The first film that is going to be run is labeled '45 and '46. That should contain some interesting flash-backs of our Freshman year at Pinkerton Academy. Unfortunately, it is not a sound film so I'll have to explain the pictures as we go along.

No, that is not a masquerade party, but it shows you how we girls looked in those nightgowns and bathing suits, burnt cork and lipstick. The parade of boys heading for the back of the Freshman building are our fellow unfortunates getting ready for the traditional ducking. What sorry-looking sights we were that day.

Here come the class officers up the walk. Those three in front are our President, William Fry; Vice-President, Helen Small, and Secretary, Irene Muzzey. Behind them are William Hepworth, our Treasurer, and Judy Gibbs and James Dougan, Student Council members.

The group of Freshmen under the trees are practicing our class cheer. Helping them are our class advisers, Coach Smith and Miss Young.. Do you remember the cheer?

Gold and royal blue
Our colors four years through
A tribute to a class that's fine
The Class of 1949
'49    '49    '49

After we chose our class colors, Carlene Caldwell and Martha Pinkham set about to make a banner to put in chapel. Here is a shot of them in the Home Ec. room just as they completed it.

This next film we will see is of our Sophomore year at the Academy. Do you remember our class adviser, Coach McKernan? I think the film is ready to go, so let's look back a few years.

This is the part I like. It's the Halloween party our class put on for the school. Look, there's the orchestra leader, ZaZa Ludwig. He's giving out jumping beans to the students.

Here's the class electing class officers. Can you remember who got elected? I can. The President was George Tyler; Vice-President, Irene Muzzey; Virginia Verge was elected Secretary, Raymond Caron was Treasurer. The Student Council, John Bartlett and Judy Gibbs.

There's the class program we put on. What a riot! Everybody thought William Hepworth, George Tyler, and Robert Thomas were a scream imitating the Andrews Sisters.

There's Class Day again. Don't the years roll by fast? I think that's all on that film. I wonder what will be next?

Now, while Curt replaces the fuse we just blew, I'll give you a preview of the next reel. The first few frames will show our energetic class adviser, Mr. Rohanick, discussing the coming year with class officers. Seated left to right, are President, George Tyler; Vice-President, Irene Muzzey; Secretary, Virginia Verge, and Treasurer, Raymond Caron. Student Council members, Judy Gibbs and John Bartlett.

As the film moves along, we shall see ourselves busily choosing and ordering class rings. We chose the All American design and how we looked forward to their arrival.

The next part of the technicolor production shows us preparing for the big event of the year, the Junior Prom. We chose as the Prom theme, "Stardust." Gerry Kearney and his orchestra furnished the music.

Now as the flickers flick on, we find ourselves halfway through this exciting year. The big event coming now is the class program. Under the direction of Mr. Rohanick and Maurice MacDonald, our Ringmaster, we presented a "Circus." And what a circus it was! Highlighting the event was a high wire pantomime.

As we observe the screen now, the trees around the campus are springing forth in all their beauty. We find Miss Abbott getting into the spirit of the baseball season by pitching a Declamation Contest and a 1500 word essay our way.

Winners in the Declamation Contest were, first, Maurice MacDonald, second, Carlene Caldwell, and third, Barbara Kingsbury.

The Junior Play was another top success. Entitled, "The Inner Willy," it won acclaim from all who saw it. The cast was as follows: Robert Cournoyer, Joy Shepard, Helen Small, Leona Morrill, Raymond Cote, Maurice MacDonald, Carl Weston, Frances Havens, Judy Gibbs, Barbara Kingsbury, Patricia Butterfield. That queer figure in the bunny suit is Ray Cote as Inner Willy, the cavorting alter-ego.

The end of the film is drawing night, and the last few scenes show us cramming for finals.

As we leave the film now, the last picture we see is that of the boys arranging the chairs for Class Day exercises.

After a slight pause, to change to the next reel, we come to our fourth and final year at Pinkerton. We see an empty classroom. There's a piano over in the corner, so it must be the Senior room. And here comes our class adviser, Mr. Conner, looking to see if we left any paper on the floor, no doubt.

This next shot is a group picture of our class officers enjoying the privilege of eating lunch on the front steps. Reading from left to right they are President, James Hodgdon; Vice-President, Irene Muzzey; Treasurer, Raymond Caron; Secretary, Virginia Verge, and Student Council members, Judy Gibbs and John Bartlett.

A change of scene. Now we see some cars stopping at a lake front and our classmates getting out. It's the Senior Corn Roast at Bella Vista on Corbett's Pond. An interior shot at Bella Vista shows some dancing to the music of the juke box, and others crowding around the fireplace toasting marshmallows or hot dogs, or getting corn from that b-i-i-g kettle.

Don't be fooled by all the angels in this scene. It's our class program, given just before Christmas and representing our version of the Nativity.

Right after our Christmas vacation, we began rehearsals for our Senior play, "The Brainstorm." It was a sequel to last year's play and had much the same cast. Here we are slaving away at rehearsals under Miss Abbott's direction. This shot was taken in March and shows some of the cast setting out for a trip to Boston, which is proof enough of the success of our play. This was taken in the evening as we returned, somewhat tired perhaps and gripping our program from the musical comedy, "Oklahoma!"

Hmmmm. There seems to be something a little bit wrong with this sequence. Well, anyway, that dark blur moving from left to right is a carload of us starting out for the Senior Howl which was held at Bear Brook.

This shot was taken in the library back in February, and shows some of us busily collecting data for our essays. And here are the essay contestants nervously pacing up and down waiting to go onto the stage.

Here we are in our caps and gowns coming out of church after Baccalaureate service. Again in caps and gowns, we're marching down the front steps for Class Day. This final sequence shows us receiving our diplomas at the graduation ceremony.

We'll put the films away for now, but for years to come, they'll be a source of enjoyment for us by bringing back memories of our four years at Pinkerton Academy.

Class Athletics

The autumn of 1945 found the Class of 1949 entering Pinkerton Academy. In the years to come, the boys of the Class of '49 were to help establish a sports record that would be tops in the entire state.

Our first year at P. A. found the boys out for all sports, getting training and experience. Four of our boys were on the football squad, learning to handle themselves in order that they might be the future stars of P. A.

In the traditional Freshman-Sophomore football game, the boys of '49 held a powerful Sophomore team to a scoreless tie.

When basketball rolled around, our class was well represented when "Speed" Hodgdon, Billy Hepworth, and Ray Caron made the Junior Varsity.

These same boys made the baseball squad, and Ray Caron gained his numerals.

The football season of 1946 came and the boys of our class responded to the call to practice by Coach McKernan. Nine boys of our class were on the squad and Bob Merrill and George Tyler earned their letters. These two boys were to become the grid stars of P. A. in the future.

The basketball season of '46 and '47, our second year at P. A., began a long reign of supremacy in the sports field for Pinkerton. We were very proud of the boys of our class who provided so much help for the basketball team that year. Cappy Tyler, Speed Hodgdon, Ray Caron, Billy Hepworth, and Bob Cournoyer were all on the squad. "Heppy" was captain of the undefeated jayvees. After a successful season, Pinkerton went to the Class B tournament at Durham. With Cappy Tyler playing an important position as center, P. A. captured the State Class B Championship of New Hampshire.

When the letters were awarded at the banquet, the Class of '49 were happy to see Ray Caron, Cappy Tyler, and Speed Hodgdon receiving them.

The spring of 1947 brought baseball to our class. Cappy Tyler, Ray Caron, Billy Hepworth, and Bob Merrill earned their letters in baseball. Cappy Tyler received a silver baseball for the highest batting average of the entire team. Bumpy Bartlett was also on the squad.

We were now entering our third year at P. A. The boys that were small had grown, matured and now they were ready for a great year in football. There were nine of our boys on the squad. Cappy Tyler and Bob Merrill were two of the fullbacks on the team. Both made the second team of the All-State. Carl Barnard and Curt Henderson also played on the first team and were rewarded with their letters along with Bob and Cappy. It was with the help of these boys that Coach McKernan was able to turn out the only undefeated football team in the state.

The Class of '49 had now contributed to a championship football team and basketball team. In November, 1947, six of our boys reported to Coach McKernan to help defend the school's Class B title. Four of these boys all played on the first team during the year. They were Ray Caron, Speed Hodgdon, Cappy Tyler, and Billy Hepworth. Jimmy Dougan and Bob Cournoyer provided much reserve strength. The team finished the season with thirteen wins and four losses.

With such a fine record, Pinkerton was again invited to the Class B tournament. In the first game, Speed Hodgdon led the team to victory by hitting the nets for twenty-five points. The second game was an easy victory for P. A., and in the third game another of our classmates, Ray Caron, helped the cause with fourteen points, to lead the team into the finals. It was a proud Class of '49 that watched three of their classmates practically single-handed, win the championship. For the top three scorers were Speed, Ray, and Billy Hepworth respectively. Two of our classmates made the All-State team, Ray Caron and Speed Hodgdon. Ray also won the state foul shooting contest.

Jimmy Dougan and Bob Cournoyer helped the Jayvees as they swept to another undefeated season. Henry Therriault, of our class, was Varsity basketball manager.

The Class of '49 was proud to see five of their boys on the baseball team. James Hodgdon was on the "squad. Letters were awarded to Cappy Tyler, Bob Merrill, Curt Henderson, Billy Hepworth, and Ray Caron. Again the silver baseball went to a member of our class, as Billy Hepworth piled up the highest batting average of the team.

Autumn, 1948—Our last year at P. A. Judging by the turnout of our class for football, it was evident that we were out for another championship football team. Twelve of our boys made the Varsity football squad. Nine of these boys earned their letters. Cappy Tyler was Captain and leader of an All-Senior back-field comprised of Buddy Caron, Billy Hepworth, and Carl Barnard. Also in the line were Curt Henderson, John Bartlett, Robert Merrill and Robert Hicks. Gordon Lovell also played enough to receive his letter.

With such a team, P. A. went to a second consecutive undefeated season. The Class of '49 was proud of Bob Merrill, who made the All-Star first team end. Cappy Tyler made second team All-State and other members of our class received honorable mention. Maurice MacDonald was manager of the football team.

Thus the boys of our class left the football field after establishing a record that will prove a challenge to other classes in years to come.

The Class of '49 provided the nucleus for the basketball team our last season. An All-Senior team led by Co-Captains Ray Caron and Speed Hodgdon with Billy Hepworth, Cappy Tyler, Jimmy Dougan and Bob Cournoyer piled up an impressive record of thirteen wins and four losses.

With this record, P. A. was again invited to the tournament at Durham, for the third straight year and our boys were resolved to leave P. A. as champions. The first tournament game came up and found Co-Captain James Hodgdon unable to play because of illness. But all the boys were a credit to the school and the Seniors to their class, and they went on to take four straight wins for the third championship in a row. Billy Hepworth and Ray Caron made the All-State team. Ray for the second straight year.

Our last sport at Pinkerton was baseball. Our five returning lettermen, led by Captain Bill Hepworth, formed the nucleus for the club.

And so went our four years at P. A. We are very happy that our boys played on two undefeated teams and three State Class B Championship teams. Unmeasurable credit goes to Coach Gordon McKernan, Coach Curran, and Mr. Hackler for making athletics possible and so successful.

MAURICE B. MACDONALD

In the past four years at Pinkerton, the girls of the Class of '49 have had an outstanding record in all sports. There has always been a large group of girls going out for every sport, willing to fight to the end, win or lose.

Our freshman year began with field hockey. We were new at the game but we did our best. Elaine Rand was our captain. She also was on the Varsity team as a sub.

Winter came and time for basketball. Our class team fought hard with Kit Pelletier leading them. We were proud to have Judy Gibbs chosen on the Varsity with Dolores Pelletier and Alice Scholz as subs.

The rest of the year was spent playing softball and volleyball. We soon discovered we had a strong softball team.

In the fall of '46, we returned again to the hockey field. For the second year, Cammie Madden led our fighting team down the field. We missed being the champs by one game, but we knew we had two years ahead to look forward to playing.

Soon it was time for the basketball season. Elaine Rand led our girls to the championship. We girls received our first cup to be placed on the mantel of our home room. On the Varsity we had Judy Gibbs and Barbara Kingsbury. Cammie Madden, Dolores Pelletier, and Elaine Rand were reliable subs.

The spring took us by the hand and soon we turned our attention to volleyball and softball.

In the fall of '48, with much experience in field hockey, we won the championship, led by Barbara Kingsbury. Now we had two cups on our mantel in our home room.

This year in basketball, Onie Morrill led us to our second championship. Our class was represented by three girls on the Varsity team—Captain Judy Gibbs, Cammie Madden, and Barbara Kingsbury.

Soon volleyball and softball were scheduled. We challenged the Faculty to a softball game. The Faculty won by a tight score.

The last year rolled around and with sad but determined faces, we reported to the hockey field. Betty Lou Scroggins was captain. Again, we were the champs.

In basketball the team had hard luck. Many of the girls had to work and we had difficulty getting a team together. Leona Morrill and Joanne Doherty were co-captains. The team did well, but didn't win the cup. On the undefeated Varsity team we had four girls who received silver basketballs, Captain Camille Madden, Judy Gibbs, Barbara Kingsbury, and Dolores Pelletier. Frances Havens, as manager, also received a silver basketball.

The rest of the year we played softball and volleyball. This was our last year, so we enjoyed ourselves thoroughly.

Besides the playing of sports, the girls who represented our class in the cheering squad our freshman and sophomore years were Elaine Rand and Patricia Butterfield as subs, and during our junior year, they made the Varsity squad. Our senior year, we had five girls on the squad, Patricia Butterfield, Cammie Madden, Judy Gibbs, and Barbara Gardiner with Elaine Rand as head cheerleader.

The girls who received athletic letters by a point system:

SOPHOMORE YEAR

Judy Gibbs, Irene Muzzey.

JUNIOR YEAR

Patricia Butterfield, Dolores Pelletier, Camille Madden, Barbara Kingsbury, Leona Morrill, Elaine Rand—Second letter, Judy Gibbs.

SENIOR YEAR

Carlene Caldwell, Frances Havens, Priscilla Rand, Joanne Doherty, Helen Small, Betty Lou Scroggins — Second letter, Camille Madden, Barbara Kingsbury, Irene Muzzey — Third letter, Judy Gibbs.

We would like to thank Mr. Hackler and the coaches of girls' athletics for the time and effort they have spent with us. We appreciate their interest. Some of our happiest times at Pinkerton were spent playing sports.

Class Statistics

We're leaving your portals today
We're leaving the grounds of P. A.
And now in this hour of parting
Here's what we have to say:

We hope you will remember us
In the years to come and pass,
All faithful 70 of us
Who constitute our class.
382 feet is our height
We'd scrape the sky if we grew a mite.
In the matter of weight, we weigh many a pound,
9,576 proves us to be quite sound.
Our age is twelve hundred and eighteen years,
We're getting old, so it appears.
Seven religions comprise our list
16 are Catholic, 20 are Methodist,
Congregationalists 12, Episcopalians 4,
Nazarene 1, and wait, there's more . . .
Baptists 12, divide these by three
Which leaves 4 Presbyterians on our class tree.
26 of the class have eyes of blue,
27, with eyes of brown, peep through.

The members with eyes of hazel are gay,
 Last but not least are 3 green, 2 gray.
 The majority of us has brown hair,
 The title of "red head" two of us share.
 Our blondes are 9 of varied shades.
 Four are blessed with ebony black, which never fades.
 Our tallest pair will not go unsung,
 They are Pat Coburn and William Young.
 Carol Hilberg and Lefty O'Brien are our shortest pair,
 For being best dressed, Carol has quite a flare.
 Our oldest boy is Lefty O'Brien,
 For him the girls are always sighin'
 Our oldest girl is Jeannine Peterson, by name,
 Our youngest boy, Ray Cote, also of best actor fame.
 Barbara Kingsbury's a well liked lass.
 She's also the youngest girl in our class.
 Frances Havens is our class flirt.
 Judy Gibbs, our best girl athlete, is quite pert.
 Our wittiest pair are Maurice and Randy,
 The best looking boy is Dougan, quite a dandy.
 Our prettiest girl is Martha Pinkham by far.
 When it comes to acting, Helen Small's the star.
 Steak, thick and juicy, is our favorite food,
 Burt Lancaster certainly puts us in a mood.
 Our favorite song is the tune, "Because,"
 For our favorite drink, milk, we take a pause.
 Judy and Heppie are our most popular pair.
 As an all 'round athlete, Tyler's there.
 Our favorite subject is history,
 Why we like it is no mystery.
 The book everyone likes, all over the globe,
 We chose for our own, the title's The Robe.
 June Allyson is our favorite actress,
 We'd see her movies if we were penniless.
 Of all the movies, we enjoyed "Johnny Belinda" most.
 Elaine Rand and Bob Cournoyer are the smoothest dancers, we boast.
 Bob Vedeler is our quietest boy,
 His silence we certainly enjoy.
 Doris Eaton never makes a sound,
 In fact, we never know when she's around.
 Our favorite teacher is Mr. Peterson
 Even hard subjects taught by him, are fun.
 Our best dressed boy is Speed,
 He's also the one most likely to succeed.

Class Prophecy

Carlene: I'm certainly glad that I happened to have a leave at this time so that I could help sort out these answers to the class reunion invitations. They should be very interesting. It's been ten long years since we've left dear old P. A. Buddy, you and Lefty take care of the stack of answers and Carol and I'll take these. By the way, Carol, what have you been doing lately?

Carol: You know me, Carlene, I'm still trying to convince the boss that I have art talent.

Lefty: I'm glad that you are in town to be on this committee with us, Buddy. How do you like your easy job as state trooper?

Buddy: It isn't so easy, O'Brien. I probably work just as hard as you do on that farm of yours.

Carol: What a stack of answers! Let's see—Bartlett is a distinguished brain surgeon in New York. He is very busy and can't come to the reunion. Ralph Boone writes that he is a successful stone mason and that he will be busy that day, so he can't come either.

Lefty: These replies from Duncan Cameron and Roderick Carey say they both work in Wyoming as forest rangers and neither of them can leave his work.

Carlene: Well, we have two people who can come to our reunion. Barbara Gardiner and Camille Madden both say that the reunion is taking place just as they have a vacation and they plan to come together. They have excellent secretarial jobs in New York City.

Buddy: Ray Caron is playing basketball for the Celtics. I wonder if he ever visits Roland Caron at his farm in New York? They both say that they wouldn't miss the reunion.

Carol: This note is from Elaine Rand. She is the only woman in Manchester to operate a garage. It is a very busy place. Priscilla Rand has finally realized one of her ambitions, and she is on her way to tour England and Scotland, consequently, she will not be able to be here.

Carlene: Betty Lou Scroggins will come. She is still a secretary and still saying yes to a very artistic boss.

Lefty: Warner Stannard is working as a technician in Boston, but he will come. Arthur Tingley is working in Boston, too. He is a successful chemist and too busy to attend.

Buddy: Robert Thomas, of course, is managing a laundry business. We still chum together after all these years. Bob hasn't changed a bit. He is still as devilish as he ever was.

Carol: Did you know Barbara Carter was in the Marines? She says that she can't obtain a leave.

Lefty: Carl Weston, Billy Young, and David Gates write that they are working as navigators on Buzz Sawyer's airlines. They say that they are very busy but that they will probably be able to join us. Robert Vedeler is still in the army. Did you know that he has only ten more years to serve before he is able to retire? He won't be able to be with us.

Buddy: Louie Severance is doing very well in the dairy business. He is also raising beef as a hobby, but he tells us that he will leave them long enough to be at our class reunion. Stanley Shooka has fulfilled everyone's expectations. He is chief administrator of an electronics experimental laboratory; consequently, he has too many important experiments underway to leave.

Carol: Irene Muzzey and Joanne Doherty both own large estates in the country and they both plan to come. Kit Pelletier is continually getting up in the world, she manages a very expensive restaurant in Boston and won't be able to get away from her duties to be with us.

Carlene: Doris Eaton is living in Richmond, a small place just outside of Keene, N. H., and she says that she is sure to be here. Marjorie Moore has her own beauty parlor in Boston. She says that she is going to make a holiday of her own and close the beauty parlor to come to see the old gang.

Lefty: Henry Therriault is an insurance investor and still making money. I'm looking forward to seeing him. Peter Patnaude owns a chicken farm in Derry.

Buddy: Curtis Henderson, Bill Hepworth, and James Hodgdon are all coaching in the big time now, but they are going to forsake their work to be at the reunion of their favorite Alma Mater.

Carol: A note from Nyla Stowe tells us that she won't be present. She is too busy interpreting at the U. N.

Carlene: Phyllis Souza will be at the reunion; she is retired now. I wonder what she retired from?

Carol: Jean Smith is coming. Can you imagine? She is an old maid. She hasn't realized the other part of her ambition yet; she wanted to be a rich old maid.

Lefty: Remember those big-game hunting stories Al Garvin used to write? He is acting them out over in Africa now and won't be able to be here.

Buddy: This one is from Maurice B. MacDonald. The reunion won't be complete without him. Can you imagine MacDonald as a sports announcer and part time master of ceremonies?

Carlene: Pat Butterfield and Fran Havens say that they will be able to attend the reunion even though they did recently start a tour of the country. Leona Morrill, Pat Boyle, and Jackie Clay can't make it. All three of them are Lieutenants in the Navy Nurse Corps and believe me they have plenty of work and responsibility.

Lefty: A note of regret from Ernest Keith tells us that he is working on a special project in Washington and that he can't possibly leave. This note from Ted Traver says that he's singing in opera that night; remember how well he used to sing in the sextet?

Carol: I saw Martha Pinkham in town yesterday, and she says that she can easily come to the reunion. She is part owner of a flower shop here in Derry. This note from Pat Putnam says that she is sure to be here. No one ever guessed that she would be a dressmaker.

Buddy: These replies are from Cap Tyler and Bob Merrill. Tyler is playing baseball for the Braves and Merrill is playing football for the Green Bay Packers. As busy as they are, they will be here.

Carlene: Joy Shepard is still faithful to Sandown and she has a very prosperous farm over there. She says that she will be here. It will be good to see her.

Carol: This note from South America is from Helen Small. She is interpreting Spanish down there and can't possibly join us.

Lefty: Leonard Severance and Gordon Lovell are both farming just a few miles outside of Derry and both will be at our reunion.

Buddy: Glenn MacDonald owns a model agency and his work takes up too much of his time to allow him to attend our reunion. I had hoped he would take some group pictures.

Carlene: A short note from Judy Gibbs tells me that she is quite busy with her hospital work, but that she plans to come just the same. Pat Coburn is going to be with us. I hope that she tells us all about that best seller that she wrote.

Carol: Barbara Kingsbury is practicing nursing right here in Derry and only an emergency will keep her away.

Lefty: Ray Cote's coming. He just finished the leading part in a Broadway play. This acceptance from Bob Cournoyer tells us that is is an insurance salesman.

Buddy: This refusal is from Ted Cote. He is too busy to come. You have undoubtedly heard of his work as a politician in South America.

Carol: I suppose that we won't hear from Virginia Verge. She has a motorcycle club, and I heard that they are heading South to acquire those "you-all" accents.

Carlene: Marjorie Chase has an important job as a secretary in New Jersey, but she will be here. She plans to drive up to the reunion in her new convertible.

Carol: Jeannine Peterson will also be able to come. She owns an exclusive dress shop in New York now.

Lefty: Remember that Carl Weston worked for an airline? Buzz Sawyer is the one that owns it. It is a very successful airline, but it is keeping Buzz too busy to join us.

Buddy: James Dougan is going to take a day off from his many duties as a Wall Street broker to be with us. Paul Sullivan is training for the track meet in the Olympics this year. His height helps his track work. His training prevents him from joining us.

Lefty: Robert Hicks is operating a tree nursery in Londonderry and he told me that he plans to come to our reunion.

Buddy: Carl Barnard has certainly succeeded with his college administration course. He is a very busy and successful business man, but he says that he is sure to be at the reunion of his Alma Mater.

Carlene: That makes 46 that are coming. Too bad it couldn't be 70. This should be a good reunion.

Carol: I'm glad that you were in town, Carlene. That leave of yours came just at the right time. It's nice to have a Navy nurse around to help us out.

Carlene: Thanks lots, Carol. I'll see you and Buddy and Lefty at the reunion. Bye.

All: Bye. See you at the reunion.

Class Gifts

Charles Bailey:

As you have lately become an uncle, Bud, we know you will be able to use this baby book.

Carl Barnard:

By the sound of your car, Carl, you will be needing a new one shortly; to save you money, we are giving you this one.

John Bartlett:

Bumpy, here is some carbon paper. When you need an excuse, now you will have more than one.

Ralph Boone:

Boonie, it must be expensive bringing a quart of milk a day for lunch. This cow is for you.

Patricia Boyle:

Pat, a little book for you to keep track of your dates. We're sure you can use it.

Patricia Butterfield:

We are giving you this wardrobe, Pat. Now you won't have to borrow your sister's clothes.

Carlene Caldwell:

Carlene, here is some stationery for those twelve page letters you write so often.

Duncan Cameron:

Sandy, everytime you park the car the wrong people find it; for you we have a deed to a parking lot where no one will find you.

Roderick Carey:

Sometime while you're fishing, you may lose your fish hook; take this extra large one, just in case.

Raymond Caron:

All year long, Ray, you have suffered by sleeping on the hard desks. We have a pillow for you, now you can sleep in peace.

Roland Caron:

We doubt if you can ever forget a milk bottle, Roland, but in case you do, here is one to remind you.

Barbara Carter:

Barb, for sometime you have played a bugle in the Youth Marines. Here is one to keep you in practice.

Marjorie Chase:

Margie, we know you make frequent trips to New York and it must be expensive. A private bus will cut down the expenses.

Jacqueline Clay:

You always seem to have an injury of some sort, Jackie; we thought this band-aid kit might help you.

Patricia Coburn:

Pat, because you love horses, we are giving you one that you can take everywhere you go.

Raymond Cote:

Ray, the night of the Junior Prom we heard you got lost in Chester. Take this compass and the next time you'll know how to get back to Derry.

Theodore Cote:

During the winter you had a lot of trouble with your car. We hope these chains will keep you from getting stuck.

Robert Cournoyer:

Bob, a package of gum for you. The teachers don't like the smell of your Juicy Fruit, but you don't have to worry about that any more.

Joanne Doherty:

While waiting for your sailor, you can always brush up on his type of language; here is a sailor's manual.

James Dougan:

Jim, all of us know you have a very hot Irish temper. We would like to give you this refrigerator in case you need to cool it off in a hurry.

Doris Eaton:

It won't be long before you can put this cook book to good use and we know it will come in handy.

Barbara Gardiner:

We know you have naturally curly hair, Babs, but we are giving you these curlers in case you should lose it.

Elbridge Garvin:

Elbridge, this pistol should come in handy in Africa, but before you go too far, we had better warn you that it is a water pistol.

David Gates:

Dave, this ax should give you a good start in the lumber business.

Judy Gibbs:

Judy, we have a spaghetti dinner for you. Now you may eat to your heart's content.

Frances Havens:

Fran, we have a diary for you to record the good times you have had at Pinkerton.

Curtis Henderson:

Curt, you have refereed at many games, and played the part of a coach in the Senior play; this whistle should remind you of it.

William Hepworth:

Bill, here is a comb; you can keep that beautiful wave in place all the time.

Robert Hicks:

Bob, this spot light should help you to see your way home at night, through the wilds of Londonderry.

Carolyn Hilberg:

Carol, because you are the shortest girl in our class, we thought a few treatments with this Vigoro might make you a bit taller.

James Hodgdon:

We understand that you take very good care of your nails and that picking tomatoes ruins them. Jim, use this manicure set and you won't have to worry any more.

Ernest Keith:

Here's a bicycle for you, Chuck, so that you can keep up your paper route.

Barbara Kingsbury:

Kings, for you we have a sign; now when you tell a joke you can be sure everyone will know when to laugh.

Gordon Lovell:

Gordon, we want you to be able to say that your class started you off on your career as a chicken farmer, so here is an egg.

Maurice MacDonald:

M. B. M., here is a catnip mouse for Genevieve, the class cat. We hope it makes her happy.

Glenn MacDonald:

Mac, this encyclopedia should help you. Now you will be able to know just what you are arguing about.

Camille Madden:

Cammie, here is a bucket, now you will be able to watch his every move.

Robert Merrill:

Bob, you are our All-State boy, and we hope these wheaties will make you an All-American boy.

Marjorie Moore:

We are sure this boat will remind you of your sailor, Margie.

Leona Morrill:

Onie, you will be needing many things to start training. We would like to help you by giving you these white stockings.

Irene Muzzey:

Rene, because of the distance between you and your man, we are giving you an airplane to shorten it. Good flying to you!

Lewis O'Brien:

Lefty, we would like to see you get the best of Mr. Conner in those battles you have. This Charles Atlas muscle building book should give you a few helpful hints.

Peter Patnaude:

Some red dye, Pete, in case your hair ever changes color.

Dolores Pelletier:

A pair of slippers for your aching feet, Kit, as we know you like to dance.

Jeannine Peterson:

If you wear this watch, you won't be late for your job, Jeannine. Be sure you have the correct time.

Martha Pinkham:

In case you have trouble building a home, here is a honeymoon cottage.

Patricia Putnam:

A portable mirror, Pat, so you won't be late for class because of spending so much time in the basement combing your hair.

Elaine Rand:

A bottle of tan lotion for that tan(ny) you got in Manchester.

Priscilla Rand:

We hope this piano will be useful to you in the future, Priscilla.

William Sawyer:

On foggy nights, Bill, we are sure you will need this map to find your way back from East Derry.

Betty Lou Scroggins:

You must have a terrible time combing your hair and trying to reach it, it's so long, but we think this rake will help you to catch those loose ends.

Leonard Severance:

Leonard, after the dress rehearsal of the Senior Play, we are sure you need these suspenders.

Louis Severance:

In case your bees fail you, Louis, we are giving you a jar of honey.

Joyce Shepard:

Should you get stranded in Sandown, Joy, here is a Jack Armstrong Magic S. O. S. Code Sender.

Stanley Shooka:

If you ever decide to take out a girl, Stanley, we know this doll will be the perfect date.

Helen Small:

Lenny, here's a mask, so you can move about the Village without the faculty's knowing about it.

Jean Smith:

This is a strong paddle, Jean, to keep those children you take care of in hand.

Phyllis Souza:

You must pay a small fortune if you take a bus or a cab to go to town. To help you cut down your expenses, here is a car.

Warner Stannard:

In case you run out of those witty sayings, Warner, here is a joke book.

Nyla Stowe:

Nyla, most people in these parts know what a wonderful driver you are and have great confidence in you, but we feel that it would only be fair for you to hang this lantern on your fender when and if you decide to become reckless.

Paul Sullivan:

Paul, we all know you are the tallest boy in the class. We would like to have you drop down for graduation and just so you won't hurt yourself, here is a parachute.

Henry Therriault:

With all that money you carry around, Henry, we wouldn't want you to lose it, so we are giving you a portable safe.

Robert Thomas:

Bob, a side car will come in handy for your motor scooter when you take a girl out riding.

Arthur Tingley:

A bottle of vitamin pills to keep you awake in class.

Edward Traver:

Here is a new radio. You can put it into your pocket and listen to it any time of the day or night and no one will know.

George Tyler:

We are giving you this gold football, Cap, and we want you to be sure and keep it for yourself.

Robert Vedeler:

As people don't seem to notice you very much, Robert, we decided to give you this flashy bow tie, so that you will attract more attention.

Virginia Verge:

We know you are crazy about motorcycles, Gin, now you have one of your very own.

Carl Weston:

Carl, we have written to the automobile manufacturers and asked them to make the seats of cars higher for you, but until they do, we want you to have this pillow so you can see over the wheel instead of through it.

William Young:

A pair of stilts for you, Bill, to loan to your girl friend as you are one of the tallest boys in the class.

Class Will

We, the Class of 1949, of Pinkerton Academy, town of Derry, state of New Hampshire, being of sound mind and body, do hereby will and bequeath our most treasured possessions and privileges to the underclassmen of this Academy.

We, therefore, declare this to be the last and only will and testament of the Class of 1949.

Article 1. We, Charles Bailey and Robert Thomas, do hereby will and bequeath our ability to drive a winning basketball team to the tournament to Lester Chase and William Low.

Article 2. I, Carl Barnard, do will and bequeath my car to anyone who has a lot of patience and plenty of money.

Article 3. I, John Barteltt, do hereby will and bequeath my few athletic abilities to Dicky Spaulding and hope that he can surpass them.

Article 4. We, Patricia Boyle and Elaine Rand, do will our four happy years at P. A. to our brothers—Bob, Finnegan, and Bobby. Cherish them always.

Article 5. I, Ralph Boone, do will my place in the first booth at Page's to Albert Gallien.

Article 6. We, Patricia Butterfield and Camille Madden, do hereby will and bequeath our Friday night trips to Patsy Hayes and Lillian Ratay. We'll even let you use the car.

Article 7. I, Carlene Caldwell, do will and bequeath my ability to create striking hair styles to Helen Dalton.

Article 8. I, Duncan Cameron, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to supply Miss Abbott and Mrs. Winchester with brook-trout to any Junior who is worrying about graduating.

Article 9. I, Roderick Carey, do will and bequeath my ability to stay away from girls to Donald Tingley.

Article 10. We, Raymond Caron and James Hodgdon, do hereby will and bequeath our success as basketball co-captains to Eddie Gallien.

Article 11. I, Roland Caron, do hereby will and bequeath my farmer's vocabulary to my brother, Emery.

Article 12. I, Barbara Carter, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to go to school for my four years without being absent or late to Doris Clark. May you find satisfaction in not having your name appear on the absent list.

Article 13. I, Marjorie Chase, do will and bequeath my good times in New York to Mary Gray.

Article 14. I, Jacqueline Clay, do hereby will and bequeath my love of dancing to Lillian Ingalls.

Article 15. We, Patricia Coburn and Helen Small, do hereby will and bequeath our everlasting devotion plus a few tips on the manly art of self-defense to Gladys Carter and Jackie Hepworth.

Article 16. I, Raymond Cote, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to keep my hair curly to Charlie Wells. It isn't that you need it, but it comes in handy, Charlie.

Article 17. We, Theodore Cote and Glenn MacDonald, do hereby will and bequeath our four years peace pact to Robert Wyman and Robert Chase.

Article 18. I, Robert Cournoyer, do hereby will my limitless supply of Juicy Fruit to John Pellerin.

Article 19. I, Joanne Doherty, do hereby will and bequeath my interest in boating to someone who is a good sailor.

Article 20. I, James Dougan, do will and bequeath anything that I have to anyone that would like to have it.

Article 21. I, Doris Eaton, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to be the quietest girl in my class to Nancy Whittemore.

Article 22. I, Barbara Gardiner, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get along with my friends to Marilyn Kumin. You've done swell so far, Marilyn. Keep it up.

Article 23. I, Elbridge Garvin, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to tell tall tales about my hunting expeditions to Gilman Severance.

Article 24. We, Robert Hicks and Carl Weston, do will and bequeath our ability to stay away from girls to Bill Dasky and Louis Lessard.

Article 25. I, David Gates, do hereby will and bequeath my trips to the Eastern States Exposition to David Tilton.

Article 26. I, Judy Gibbs, do hereby will and bequeath my ability and interest in playing sports to Carol Hodgdon, Remember, Carol, the taller the better, not only in basketball.

Article 27. I, Frances Havens, do hereby will my good times at Pinkerton to Mary Lou Hodgdon.

Article 28. I, Curtis Henderson, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to manage a championship basketball team to Walt Novak.

Article 29. I, William Hepworth, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to keep my gold footballs and basketballs to Howard Evans and Jake Johnson.

Article 30. I, Carolyn Hilberg, do hereby will and bequeath my unfortunate position as the shortest girl in the class to Kitty Graham.

Article 31. I, Ernest Keith, do will and bequeath to the undergraduates something of which I have nothing and nothing of which I have an abundance of.

Article. 32. I, Barbara Kingsbury, do hereby will and bequeath my title of Mother Kingsbury to Barbara Hall. Take good care of the girls, "Ma."

Article 33. I, Maurice MacDonald, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to smile and joke my time away to Donald Patterson. You have a good start, Don.

Article 34. I, Gordon Lovell, do hereby will my ability to stay on the good side of Mr. Hackler and Mr. Conner to my brother, Norman. Take it, kid, and hang on to it; it comes in handy sometimes.

Article 35. I, Robert Merrill, do will and bequeath my ability to play football to Arnold Buckley. It might come in handy, Buck.

Article 36. We, Marjorie Moore, Martha Pinkham, and Jean Smith, do hereby will and bequeath our ability to walk up Ela's Hill in all kinds of weather to Shirley Hicks, Barbara Wentworth, and Marion Hall.

Article 37. I, Leona Morrill, do hereby will and bequeath my good disposition to Marion Clement. It's hard to keep.

Article 38. I, Irene Muzzey, do hereby will my luck of continually getting rides home from school to Roger Senter. Anything's better than walking, Roger.

Article 39. I, Lewis O'Brien, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to put off doing my assignments until the last minute to Mary Ann Zaremba.

Article 40. I, Peter Patnaude, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to trap mink to my brother, Robert.

Article 41. I, Dolores Pelletier, do will and bequeath my ability to talk myself out of trouble to Franklin Jenkins. You'll need it with the umpires.

Article 42. We, Jeannine Peterson and Phyllis Souza, do hereby will and bequeath our ability to get along with each other to Sally Williamson and Dorothy Dexter.

Article 43. I, Patricia Putnam, do will my height to Eileen Oikle.

Article 44. I, Priscilla Rand, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to stay out of trouble to my sister. You need it, Janice.

Article 45. I, William Sawyer, do will and bequeath my ability to get along with blondes to Edgar Caldwell.

Article 46. I, Betty Lou Scroggins, do will and bequeath my long hair to any underclassman who has patience and fortitude.

Article 47. I, Leonard Severance, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to ride a motorcycle to Lucien Paquin. Try to stay on because you only fall off once.

Article 48. I, Louis Severance, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get good marks in history to Jean Smith. It isn't so hard, Jean.

Article 49. I, Joyce Shepard, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to live up to my nick-name, Joy, to anyone who thinks that he can. It's mighty hard sometimes.

Article 50. I, Stanley Shooka, do will and bequeath my position as money collector of the Science Club soup line to Richard Kelley.

Article 51. I, Warner Stannard, do hereby will and bequeath the space I take up in school to anyone it will fit.

Article 52. We, Nyla Stowe and Virginia Verge, do hereby will and bequeath our motto of "Dangerous Living" to Barbara Thomas and Geraldine Sweezy.

Article 53. We, Paul Sullivan and Bill Young, do hereby will and bequeath our ability to grow tall to Robert Thibeault and Robert Patnaude.

Article 54. I, Henry Therriault, do will and bequeath my ability to have a good time in school to everyone.

Article 55. I, George Tyler, do hereby will and bequeath to Harry Piper a successful season as Captain of the 1949 football team.

Article 56. We, the members of the Crow Association, do hereby will and bequeath our positions to Mary Lou Hodgdon, Barbara Thomas, Charles Reynolds and Richard Kelley. May you fly higher and crow louder.

Article 57. To Mr. Hackler, we the Class of 1949, express our sincere gratitude for his guidance and understanding during our four years here.

Article 58. To Mr. Conner, we the Class of 1949, wish to express our appreciation for the many difficulties he has helped us to overcome.

Article 59. To the Faculty, we the Class of 1949, leave uninterrupted peace and solitude for their remaining years here.

Article 60. To Miss Abbott, we the Class of 1949, leave the class wit, Maurice MacDonald, to keep her up-to-date on the World Series. We also leave her "Mother" Kingsbury to tend to the "little room" downstairs.

Article 61. To the Junior class, we the Class of 1949, leave all of the Senior privileges and the Senior home room. Take good care of them; they mean a lot.

Given under our hand and seal this ninth day of June in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and forty-nine.

Presentation of the Spade

For many years it has been the custom to present to the Freshman Class this spade which is symbolic of the traditions of Pinkerton. Best wishes to the Class of 1952 and may your class be a credit to the Academy.

ROBERT WYMAN

Acceptance of the Spade

On behalf of the Class of 1952, I am pleased to accept this spade. Each member of the class will try to uphold the high ideals of Pinkerton.

RICHARD SPAULDING

Salutatory and Valedictory

Today, the Class of 1949 is graduating. What will the future bring us? New technological advances will make living easier but life will be more complex. The problems of the world will be complicated more with further applications of atomic power, new types of air travel, and perhaps, interplanetary journeys.

We, who will be the leaders of tomorrow, have a great responsibility. We will have to carry on the great work done in the past. The present generation is depending on us to find our places and to make contributions to a better world.

In no time past have there been so many opportunities open to a group of young people. In our grandfather's time, it was simple to find one's work. One followed in his father's footsteps. Now it is not so. Each new generation finds a wealth of new opportunities. The difficult part is making the choice.

The responsibility of choosing our life's work is a great one. Each person must decide in which field he will be most useful. We must guard against making the wrong choice for few of us will have a second chance.

It is with this thought that we welcome you to these, the 131st Commencement Exercises of Pinkerton Academy.

STANLEY JOSEPH SHOOKA

Tempus fugit. No one would really want it to be different. Our existence would be monotonous beyond words if there were no change or variety to it. No matter how often we may say that we wish that a certain comfortable, safe phase of our life might never end, we continue to look forward to the uncertainty of the future.

This is the way most of us feel about ending our years at Pinkerton. Certainly we regret the end of this phase of our life, but we eagerly await the next. We are saddened by the inevitable severing of old friendships but we happily anticipate the forming of new ones. The very secret misgivings we may have at the thought of being without the close guidance and guardianship to which we are so accustomed are tempered by our eagerness to take the responsibilities of adulthood.

For some of us this is the end of our formal education; for others merely the mid-point; for all of us it is the beginning of an entirely new, at times frightening, mode of living. Though we all have our plans and hopes for the future, none of us knows what is in store. But whatever it is we hope that, with the training we have received here at Pinkerton, we will be able to cope with it. So let Tempus fugit all it wishes; we think we're ready for anything it will bring us.

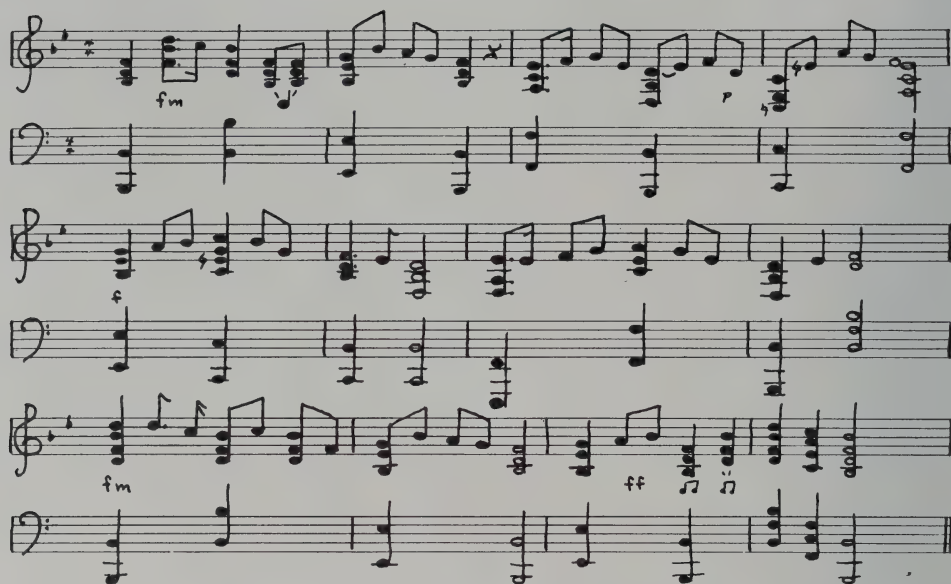

On behalf of my classmates, I wish to thank Mr. Hackler and the members of the Faculty not only for their expert instruction in our studies but also for the constant, friendly interest they have taken in each of us. It is this personal touch that has made our years at Pinkerton so outstanding and which has helped prepare us for our debut into the adult world.

I urge my classmates to use this foundation to the best advantage while striving to make their mark in the world. I hope each of you will attain your desires and ambitions or at least be content with what you do achieve.

HELEN VIRGINIA SMALL

Class Song

Dear Pinkerton, after four short years with you
 Sharing joys and sorrows that classmates go thru
 Learning from books and experience
 Things that help us now and in all years hence
 We have stood by our colors, gold and royal blue
 For e'er to thee, we will be true.

On toward success and fame we are bent
 Always remembering our four years well spent
 Never forgetting the friends we've made
 Holding dear all memories that never fade
 Each forty-niner will go his chosen way
 And now we bid farewell to dear P. A.
